Subject: RE: understanding of agreement

Reese... based on our call on August 25, I have a much different understanding. I direct you to both your and Eric Broderick's emails dated Friday, August 25.

SAMHSA has assumed responsibility for the overall service and has agreed to compensate Patriot beginning August 25. Since there is a significant outstanding balance sue, Patriot has become the subscriber for all of the toll-free telephone numbers in question.

If there is any confusion about the current status, I recommend that you discuss this matter with SAMHSA directly and work it out with them. Also, please note that the services agreement between Patriot and KBHC was terminated on August 25.

Let me know if you have any questions.

Thanks... Doug

For reference here is the email from SAMHSA with the potentially damaging language highlighted in RED.

Subject: Agreement

This is to reiterate the agreement discussed today (August 25, 2006) between representatives of the Kristin Brooks Hope Center (KBHC), Patriot Communications, and the Substance Abuse and Mental Health Services Administration (SAMHSA).

Accordingly, KBHC agrees to permit SAMHSA to assume control of the toll free number 1-800-SUICIDE, effective immediately, and to notify Patriot Communications (Patriot) of this permission. Patriot agrees that it will continue providing service to this number for a 30-day period. SAMHSA agrees to compensate Patriot for charges incurred on the 1-800-SUICIDE number, while the number is under SAMHSA's control. Patriot agrees to redirect callers to 1-800-273-TALK, or to have service continue according to the current application for answering calls, as requested by SAMHSA. SAMHSA will compensate Patriot for calls that are received by 1-800-SUICIDE while the number is under SAMHSA's control, at the current per-minute toll free telephone number usage charge, and will pay the FCC surcharge for numbers that originate from a pay phone.

We understand that Patriot Communications plans to continue providing service to other toll free numbers KBHC controls during this 30-day period. At SAMHSA's option and upon notification by SAMHSA, KBHC and Patriot will make available to SAMHSA, under these same terms, such other numbers that KBHC controls that are pertinent to SAMHSA's mission. KBHC agrees to take steps, now and in the future, to assign control of 1-800-SUICIDE (1-800-784-2433) to SAMHSA, and to make SAMHSA the subscriber of record for this toll free number, consistent with FCC rules. KBHC takes these steps with no promise of any consideration other than that provided for above.

We are pleased to reach an agreement that permits the 1-800-SUICIDE line to remain open to callers.
